

November 2014

CAMPUS Connections

Beaufort County Community College
Creating Success: Hope • Opportunity • Jobs!

Three join BCCC Board of Trustees

Clerk of Court Marty Paramore, center, gives the oath office to new members of the BCCC Board of Trustees. They are, left to right, Bill Wall, Jim Chesnutt and Jackson Lancaster. Lancaster's mother, Louann, at right, holds the Bible for her son.

The Beaufort County Community College Board of Trustees welcomed three new members in October.

Taking the oath of office and joining the board were Jim Chesnutt, Jackson Lancaster and Bill Wall.

"The BCCC Board of Trustees is pleased to welcome these three individuals to its membership" said board Chairman Russell Smith. "With their business experience, Mr. Chesnutt and Mr. Wall will bring valuable insight to the board as it works to provide quality education for the region. With his experience as a student leader and a businessman, Mr. Lancaster will be well-positioned to represent the students' point of view to the board."

Chesnutt is Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of National Spinning Co., Inc., and has served with that company for 17 years.

A native of Turkey, N.C., he earned a bachelor's degree from the East Carolina University College of Business and graduated from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Executive Program.

Before joining National Spinning, Chesnutt served with Harriet and Henderson Yarns, Inc. and North Carolina National Bank, now Bank of America.

Chesnutt is Chairman of the Beaufort County Committee of 100, a member of the Board of Directors of the National Council of Textile Operations and a member of the East Carolina University College of Business Advisory Council. He is also a member of the First Presbyterian Church in Washington.

Chesnutt is a past president of the North Carolina Textile Manufacturers Association, the American Yarn Spinning Association and the East Carolina University Pirate Club. He is also past chairman of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, the National Council of Textile Operations, the East Carolina University Medical and Health Sciences Foundation, the Henderson Country Club and the Kerr-Vance Academy.

Chesnutt and his wife, Judy, live in Washington.

He was appointed to the college board by Gov. Pat McCrory.

Lancaster, a student in the Business Administration Program at BCCC, is a 2014 graduate of the Beaufort County Early College High School. He holds an associate in arts degree from BCCC and returned to the college this year to pursue his business degree.

He is a licensed realtor with Coldwell Banker Coastal Rivers Realty.

At BCCC Lancaster is a member of the Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society and a college Ambassador. After graduating from BCCC, he plans to continue his education while building a successful career in real estate.

Lancaster is the son of Terry and Louann Lancaster of Washington.

SEE THREE JOIN BOARD, PAGE 3

Inside

Page 2
BCCC's Best recognized for dependability.

Page 3
Foundation's fall trips draw enthusiastic travelers.

Pages 6-7
Continuing Education news.

Pages 8-9
One Day @ BCCC documents campus activities Oct. 14.

Page 11
Golden LEAF Scholarships available for BCCC students.

Page 12
BCCC tobacco ban expanded;
now includes e-cigarettes.

BCCC's Best recognized for dependability

Ten students at Beaufort County Community College were recognized as "BCCC's Best" in a ceremony on the college campus recently. All students were cited for their dependability in school or in life.

Ten BCCC students were cited for the character trait "dependable," or someone who could be relied upon in school and in life. Those attending the recognition ceremony were left to right, Jackson Lancaster, LaLether Shepard, Erica Burke, William Cherry, Christopher Reid and Catherine Spring.

Those honored were Erica Burke, William Cherry, Jackson Lancaster, Christopher Reid and Jennifer Waters of Washington; Catherine Spring of Belhaven, Lilani Masters of Chocowinity; Daniel Garza Salazar of Columbia; Chase Carawan of Swan Quarter, and LaLether Shepard of Vanceboro.

During the ceremony attended by BCCC faculty and staff and guests of the honorees, Vice President of Student Services Rick Anderson and the nominating faculty or staff member presented each student with a certificate that contained the description of his or her activities.

Each month "BCCC's Best" highlights a character trait found in students such as motivation, respect, hard work, commitment and involvement in the college.

Nominations should be submitted to Director of Counseling Kimberly Jackson at kimberlyj@beaufortccc.edu. The character traits and deadlines for submission are as follows:

November – Inquisitive – Someone who demonstrates a natural desire to learn and seeks information for their own benefit; nomination deadline, Nov. 18; recognition, Nov. 25.

December – Involved – Someone who works to be an involved student in the classroom or someone who takes part in clubs and organizations on campus or the community, nomination deadline, Dec. 9; recognition, Dec. 16.

SHOW OFF YOUR CREATIVITY

GULLFEST 2015 T-SHIRT DESIGN CONTEST

ALL ENTRIES DUE
JANUARY 20, 2015

Heea Crownfield
heea@beaufortccc.edu
940-6491

FOR DETAILS
CONTACT

James E. Casey
jamesc@beaufortccc.edu
940-6338

Beaufort County Community College

is a public comprehensive community college committed to providing accessible and affordable quality education, effective teaching, relevant training, and lifelong learning opportunities for the people served by the college.

Campus Connections

is a monthly newsletter published by

Beaufort County Community College,
5337 U.S. Hwy 264 East, Washington, N.C. 27889.
Betty Mitchell Gray, Public Relations Coordinator writing and design

Three join board, from Page 1

In his role as President of the BCCC Student Government Association, Lancaster serves an ex-officio member of the BCCC board and participates in all of the board's discussions.

Wall joined First South Bank in 1993 and has served as Secretary of First South BanCorp Inc. since 1997 and Secretary of First South Bank since 1995.

He earned a bachelor's degree in accounting from Barton College.

Wall currently serves on the BCCC Foundation Board of Directors, which oversees the operations of the college's non-profit organization.

Before joining First South Bank, he served with Pioneer Savings Bank in Rocky Mount.

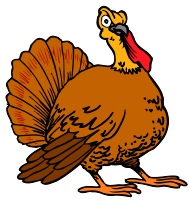

Wall is a past president of the Beaufort County United Way, the Washington Noon Rotary Club and the Washington Rotary Club and past Treasurer of Rotary District 7720.

He was presented the 2001 Community Service Award by the Washington/Beaufort County Chamber of Commerce for his community and civic involvement in several local organizations.

Wall and his wife, Becky, live in Cypress Landing.

He was appointed to the board by the Beaufort County Board of Commissioners.

The BCCC Board of Trustees is the policy-making board of the college. Its role is to ensure the citizenry of the area that effective and competent leadership is provided by the college administration for the adequate operation of the college.

Board Recognizes Wallace

The Beaufort County Community College Board of Trustees recently recognized Jack Wallace who left the board after some 15 years of service. Wallace, a former principal at Bath, recently served as Vice Chairman of the Board. Board member Frank "Bo" Lewis, at left, above, read a resolution of appreciation for Wallace praising his dedication to his country and the education of the citizens of the region in primary, elementary, high school and post-secondary settings.

Foundation trips draw enthusiastic travelers

Above, trip participants enjoy brunch at Herons restaurant at The Umstead in Cary before the performance of Dirty Dancing. At right, Jeff Phipps, professor emeritus with the School of Theatre and Dance at East Carolina University, gives a presentation on the theater to a group of travelers before they attend a performance of The Phantom of the Opera.

The Beaufort County Community College Foundation day trips to the Durham Performing Arts Center drew enthusiastic groups of travelers this fall. The Foundation sponsored trips to DPAC to see Dirty Dancing and The Phantom of the Opera. Trips are planned in 2015 to see MOTOWN, Kinky Boots and Newsies. For more information, contact Foundation Director Judy Jennette at 252-940-6326 or Foundation Specialist Marcia Norwood at 252-940-6218.

Visitors drawn to campus for Open House

About 100 people visited Beaufort County Community College Thursday, Oct. 2, during the first campus-wide Open House held in many years.

Those attending had the chance to talk with faculty and staff members, learn about student organizations and talk with representatives of groups that provide services to students. Attendees were also able to register to win a $1,500 scholarship that can be used for tuition, books or classroom supplies for either curriculum or continuing education classes.

Top left, Anatomy and Physiology Instructor Jason Jackson explains the bones of a skeleton to a visitor. Above, Open House attendees enjoyed refreshments in Building 10. At left, Art Instructor Heea Crownfield and History Instructor Keith Lyon welcomed visitors to a display of division activities. Below, left, Automotive Systems Technology students sold T-shirts and cooked hot dogs for Open House guests.

Human Services Technology student LaLether Shepard won the $1,500 scholarship raffle held during the Open House. Shepard, of Vanceboro, plans to graduate in May and pursue a bachelor's degree in criminal justice. Presenting the check to Shepard, second from right, are, left to right, Open House Co-Chairman Sara Singleton, BCCC President Barbara Tansey and Open House Chairman Jay Sullivan.

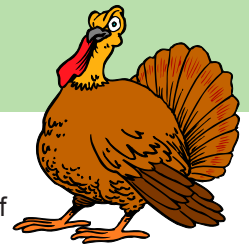

BCCC's Kelly wins award at local arts show

Norlina Kelly, a student in BCCC's Medical Office Administration Program, won an award at the Beaufort County Arts Council's recent Fine Arts Show.

Kelly, who has been painting for almost 40 years, won the East Carolina Wildfowl Guild Award for her work, Pamlico Havens. The award is given to the best entry in depicting eastern North Carolina wildlife.

Kelly, at right, of Washington, is a graduate of Bertie High School. She holds a Nurse Aide I Certificate and an Early Childhood Certificate. At BCCC, she serves as Historian for Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society.

Her work, at far right, is on display in the Washington Civic Center on Gladden Street with other winners from the show.

Gamma Beta Phi officers elected

A Bath student at Beaufort County Community College has been chosen to lead BCCC's chapter of Gamma Beta Phi Honor Society for the 2014-2015 school year.

Lorri Moree has been elected to serve as President of the organization. Moree is a student in BCCC's Criminal Justice Program and the Human Services Technology Program. A graduate of Suncoast High School, she holds a Nurse Aide I certificate. The daughter of Barbara Brooks Barr and Charles Barr, she has three children. Moree plans to pursue a career in substance abuse and crisis counseling after graduating from BCCC.

Joining Moree as Gamma Beta Phi officers are Cameron D. Sparrow of Chocowinity, vice president; Miriam Lamb, secretary; Anthony D. Burton, treasurer, and Norlina Kelly, historian/reporter.

Moree and Sparrow were also recently elected to statewide Gamma Beta Phi office. Moree was chosen to serve as North Carolina/Virginia President of Financial Affairs. Sparrow was elected North Carolina/Virginia Vice President.

The BCCC Gamma Beta Phi Chapter is conducting a food drive for Eagle's Wings, a local food pantry. Non-perishable food items are being collected through Monday, Nov. 17, at drop-off sites in Buildings 9, 11 and 12.

With national headquarters in Murfreesboro, Tenn., Gamma Beta Phi is an honor and service organization for students who excel in scholarship, service and character. Past club service projects include sponsoring an annual Job Fair at BCCC and participating in other community-based projects throughout the year.

Membership is by invitation only. To be eligible, a student must be currently enrolled, must have completed at least 13 semester hours of college work and must have a 3.2 grade point average, among other criteria. Invitations to GBP are extended in the fall and spring of each year with a formal induction of new members taking place in the spring.

For more information about Gamma Beta Phi, interested persons should contact chapter Advisor Erica Schatz at 252-940-6425 or by email at ericas@beaufortccc.edu.

Gamma Beta Phi officers for the 2014-2015 academic year at Beaufort County Community College are, front row, left to right, Cameron Sparrow, vice president; Lorri Moree, president; Miriam Lamb, secretary; back row, left to right, Anthony D. Burton, treasurer, and Norlina Kelly, historian/reporter.

Small engine repair class features renovations

The Division of Continuing Education's Small Engine Repair Class returns this month in a newly-renovated classroom that features new hand tool sets, an air compressor, air-powered tools, a parts washer and other amenities.

"BCCC is pleased to offer this very popular class in an improved setting with upgraded equipment," said Clay Carter, director of Personal Enrichment Programs.

The class will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays in Room 100 of Building 8A beginning Nov. 4 and ending Dec. 18. Instructor Thomas Rogers will give students hands-on training to repair four-cycle and two-cycle engines.

The registration fee is $110.25, including student insurance. Students are encouraged to bring their own small equipment pieces to tune-up and repair.

For more information about this class or BCCC's Personal Enrichment Programs, contact Carter at 252-940-6357 or by email at clayc@beaufortccc.edu.

Students may register by calling 252-940-6375 or in person in room 802 of Building 8 on the BCCC campus. BCCC accepts Visa, MasterCard and Discover. Checks payable to Beaufort County Community College may be mailed to the attention of Eva Peartree, 5337 U.S. Highway 264 East, Washington, NC 27889.

Second cohort completes BCCC's CPT training

The second cohort of Certified Production Technician students received their certifications at a ceremony held recently on the BCCC campus, marking their completion of the program.

The Certified Production Technician coursework involves training recognized by the Manufacturing Skill Standards Council in four critical production areas - Safety, Quality and Continuous Improvement, Manufacturing Processes and Production, and Maintenance Awareness.

The training is funded by a $120,000 North Carolina Back-to-Work grant.

Those receiving certificates were Clay Buck, James Conner, James Shepherd, Michael Matthews, David Miller, Wayne O'Conney, Scott Woolard and Graham Young.

Most of those completing the program are full-time students who took on this additional class for the added credential.

Certified Production Technician completers attending the recognition ceremony are David Miller, Clay Buck, Graham Young, Michael Matthews and James Conner. The CPT certificate is pictured at right.

BCECHS Interact Club inducts new officers

The Interact Club of Beaufort County Early College High School installed the club's officers at a ceremony held on the BCCC campus last month.

Part of Rotary International, Interact is a club for high school youth designed to help emerging leaders develop their skills. Interact club members have fun while carrying out service projects and learning about the world.

Officers for the club are Aeyalle Williams, president; Quierra Ross, vice president; Brenna McDonald, secretary, and Fatima Shamseldin, publicity chairman.

The BCECHS Interact Club is sponsored by the Washington Noon Rotary Club. Interact Club advisor Steven Wood led the ceremony.

BCCC helps promote Careers on Wheels

Beaufort County Community College's Truck Driver Training Program attracted students from Eastern Elementary School at the school's annual Careers on Wheels Day last month.

Justin Rose, Division of Continuing Education's Special Project Coordinator, and Penelope Radcliffe, Basic Skills Assessment and Recruitment Specialist, pose with Eastern Elementary School students during Careers on Wheels Day with a vehicle from BCCC's Truck Driver Training Program.

The event gave students a look into the careers of the area's professionals.

Eastern Elementary has been hosting the event for the past 10 years, said Elizabeth Picone, the school's guidance counselor and event co-chairman.

"COW Day is a great way for kids of our age group to be introduced to different careers in the community," Picone told the Daily News.

In addition to BCCC, other visitors included a cake decorator who talked about how to bake and decorate cakes; an investigator with the Beaufort County Crime Scene Unit that showed the students the importance of forensics to solve criminal investigations; an electrical crew with the City of Washington Electrical Department; the N.C. Department of Transportation which brought a dump truck; a woman who makes pottery who brought her pottery wheel to show students the process of using clay to mold into pottery; and several others.

The event theme is careers that require some sort of wheel, whether it is wheels of a vehicle like the Washington Fire-Rescue-EMS fire truck or the pottery wheel of Carolyn Sleeper.

"BCCC is delighted to participate in events like this which give young people a glimpse into various careers," said Justin Rose, coordinator of Special Projects for the Division of Continuing Education. "I hope this will spark an interest by some of these young people in a career in trucking."

"When you have young kids like this, to have a lawyer come in and speak, they're not going to get it. . .and it's just a great way to get all the kids interested or involved because of the wheel aspect," Picone said.

- Jonathan Rowe, Washington Daily News, contributed to this report

Continuing Education News

"See for Free" attracts test takers to BCCC

The Division of Continuing Education gave 207 tests during its "See for Free" event, held during a two-week period in late September and early October.

As part of the statewide event, BCCC and other community colleges waived the $24 fee for the four subject areas of the GED® Ready Test. The GED® Ready Test gives those who take it a preview of their ability to successfully complete their high school equivalency exam.

Of those who took the test, 44 passed at least one section and 22 official GED® tests were scheduled. Of those taking the GED®, 16 reported passing scores, according to Penelope Radcliffe, Basic Skills Recruitment and Assessment specialist.

The high school equivalency exam is designed to measure a person's knowledge and skills in the areas of language arts, reasoning, social studies, science and mathematics.

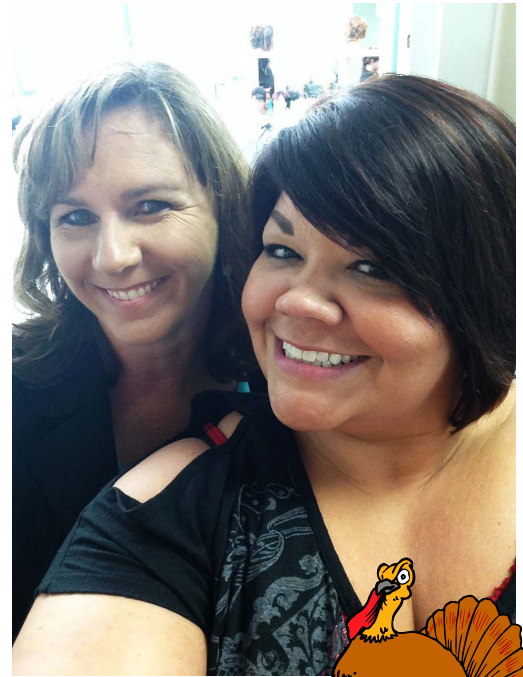

For its high school equivalency exam, BCCC offers the GED®, a registered trademark of the American Council on Education and the nation's most recognizable high school equivalency exam.

"I am very proud of all these students for taking advantage of this opportunity," Radcliffe said.

One Day @BCCC

On Tuesday, Oct. 14, students, faculty, staff and visitors at Beaufort County Community College were asked to take a photograph of something they saw on campus that day. Here are some of the photographs, including subject matter and photographer, if known. To see more photographs, visit the BCCC page on Facebook.

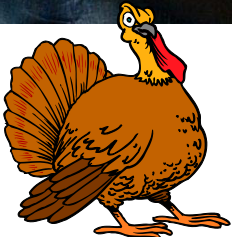

This page, top, left, BCCC's Renovated Small Engine Repair Classroom, winner Best Photo by a Staff Member, by Clay Carter; top, right, a selfie by Kim Moulden, winner Best Photo by a Faculty Member; at left, A Group of Friends, winner Best Photo by a Student, by Toneshia D. Roberson; Below, A Creek Runs Through It, runner-up Best Photo by a Student by Casey Boyd; below left, Science Project by Jennie Singleton. Next page, above, Gail Burton Testing Output by Jessica Mooney; below, Signing Breast Cancer Banner by Betty Gray.

One Day @BCCC

Top, Ken Robol Makes a Point by Lea Benson; Pictured above, Knot on a Tree by Amelia Whitfield Pictured below, Benches on an Overcast Day by Marshall Hall.

BCCC students learn the art of telling stories

Students in Literacy and Language Experiences at Beaufort County Community College got storytelling tips from a master recently. Mima Dixon, a BCCC graduate and retired librarian, visited the classroom to spark the students' interest in reading to young children. After her retirement, Dixon continued her interest in books and literacy through part-time work with the Beaufort/Hyde Partnership for Children's Read-Me-A-Book program. Dixon has participated in numerous storytelling festivals across the state. At BCCC, Dixon read books, told original stories and involved the students in activities, giving them hands-on experience in reading and telling stories to children. Literacy and Language Experiences is part of BCCC's Early Childhood Education curriculum.

Prospective students sample college life

About 30 prospective college students had a chance to sample college life when Beaufort County Community College opened its doors to give those 16 years old or older the chance to attend actual classes and meet potential instructors in their classrooms for free during Free Day at BCCC held at BCCC last month. The visitors could choose among about 24 courses in a variety of disciplines - allied health, arts and sciences, business and industry. They also had the chance to talk to BCCC staff about admissions, career planning, financial aid, college transfers and academic counseling. At right, Free Day participants Madison Armstrong and Pamela Cornelius attended a Medical Laboratory Technology class during their visit to Free Day and posed in their lab coats.

Cosmetology students don pink for awareness!

Cosmetology students and faculty members at BCCC wore pink in their classrooms and as they provided salon services recently to mark Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Other events at the college included information about breast cancer and breast cancer screenings sponsored by TRIO and Student Support Services. The cosmetology students posed in their pink attire in the lobby of the school.

Golden LEAF Scholarships available at BCCC

Scholarships are available at Beaufort County Community College through a grant made by the Golden LEAF Foundation to the North Carolina Community College System.

Curriculum students may apply for up to $750 per semester and Division of Continuing Education students are eligible for up to $250 per term.

Golden LEAF Scholarships can be used to help with tuition, fees, books, supplies, transportation and childcare expenses related to attending classes during the 2014-15 academic year and industry-recognized credential testing expenses that address skill gaps, upon course completion.

Eligible students must demonstrate financial need and reside in rural counties that are tobacco-dependent and/or economically distressed. Scholarships for both occupational and curriculum students are available during the fall, spring and summer semesters.

"Beaufort County Community College appreciates the Golden LEAF Foundation's emphasis on educational opportunities for residents in tobacco-dependent counties," said BCCC President Barbara Tansey. "These scholarships will help our students develop the skills they need to enter the workforce or help them continue their studies to the benefit of the local economy."

The Golden LEAF Scholarship program, designed to help North Carolinians attend the state's community colleges, is funded through a $750,000 grant from the Golden LEAF Foundation.

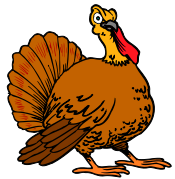

"The Golden LEAF Foundation is proud to have awarded over 6,400 Golden LEAF Scholarships to help North Carolinians attend our state's community colleges," said Dan Gerlach, Golden LEAF President. "Our hope is that these scholarships will help build the talent, knowledge and skills of our current and future workforce, which are in demand by industry, especially in the rural areas of our state."

The Golden LEAF Foundation is a nonprofit organization established in 1999 to help transform North Carolina's economy. The foundation receives one-half of North Carolina's funds from the 1998 Master Settlement Agreement with cigarette manufacturers and places special emphasis on assisting tobacco-dependent, economically distressed and/or rural communities across the state. The Golden LEAF Foundation works in partnership with governmental entities, educational institutions, economic development organizations and nonprofits to achieve its mission. The foundation has awarded 1,275 grants totaling more than $561 million since its inception. For more information about the foundation, visit www.goldenleaf.org or call (888) 684-8404.

Curriculum students should contact the Financial Aid Office at 252-940-6222 to receive information about the scholarship program and an application. Continuing Education students should contact Sue Gurley, Nurse Aide Program coordinator, at 252-940-6263 or by email at sueg@beaufortccc.edu.

Staff plans Butterball and Basketball fundraisers

Just in time for Thanksgiving cooking and Christmas gift-giving, the Beaufort County Community College Staff Association has scheduled two activities this fall that will appeal to both cooks and sports fans and help Staff Association members raise funds for its charitable activities this year.

The Staff Association is selling "Butterball" raffle tickets - which include a chance to win a gas card, a turkey or a ham - for the "Butterball" portion of the raffle. Tickets are available for $1 from any member of the association through Monday, Nov. 17. Tickets for the basketball portion of the raffle, for four tickets to the Carolina vs. William and Mary basketball game on Dec. 30, in Chapel Hill are available for $2 from any member of the association through Friday, December 5.

Raffle tickets can also be purchased by contacting Margie Cobb, office manager, Allied Health Division in Building 12, by telephone at 252-940-6315 or by email at margiec@beaufortccc.edu.

Electronic cigarettes added to tobacco-free policy

The Beaufort County Community College Board of Trustees last month expanded its tobacco-free policy to include electronic cigarettes and other electronic delivery systems in its campus-wide tobacco ban.

“Beaufort County Community College is committed to providing its employees and students with a safe and healthful environment,” said BCCC President Barbara Tansey. “The new policy, added to the existing smoking and tobacco-free campus policy recognizes the use of tobacco products and electronic cigarettes on campus grounds is detrimental to the health and safety of students.”

The prohibition on electronic cigarettes and similar devices is effective immediately and applies not only to BCCC students and employees but also visitors to the campus.

In 2010, the BCCC Board of Trustees enacted a campus-wide ban on smoking and the use of other tobacco products following a study of on-campus smoking and tobacco use.

Under the policy, the use of electronic cigarettes and all tobacco products is prohibited in all campus buildings and vehicles on campus grounds and property owned by the college and at all events held on the college campus.

It stipulates that visitors who repeatedly violate the policy will be asked to leave the campus and calls for various sanctions against students, staff, and faculty members who violate the policy.

Signs designating BCCC as a tobacco-free campus are posted at all campus entrances.

For more information about the policy, contact Vice President of Student Services Rick Anderson at 252-940-6417 or by email at ricka@beaufortccc.edu.

Upcoming Events

November 1-7 – Registration for Spring Semester 2015 continues for new and returning students.

November 4 – Gamma Beta Phi meeting, noon, Room 1220, Building 12.

November 4 – Men of Success meeting, noon, Room 112, Building 1.

November 4 – Professional Development - Using Interactive Whiteboards in Instruction, noon, Room 104, Building 1, November 4 – Faculty Senate Executive Council, meeting, noon, Conference Room, Building 12.

November 7 – Division of Student Services meeting, 8:30 A.M., Room 928, Building 9.

November 10 – Veteran’s Breakfast, 9 A.M., Student Lounge, Building 9.

November 11 – Holiday.

November 13 – Registration Retreat Work Group meeting, 2 P.M., Room 104, Building 1.

November 14 – Last day to withdraw from Fall Semester without grade penalty.

November 14 – Division of Student Services meeting, 8:30 A.M., Room 928, Building 9.

November 18 – Professional Development - How to take Total Advantage of Blackboard, noon, Room 104, Building 1.

November 19 – Gullfest Team, meeting, 2 P.M., Core Team; 3 P.M., Leaders Team, Board Room, Building 10.

November 21 – Division of Student Services meeting, 8:30 A.M., Room 928, Building 9.

November 25 – BCCC’s Best recognition ceremony, noon, Student Lounge, Building 9.

November 26 – Student/Faculty Vacation.

November 27-28 – Thanksgiving Holiday.

December 2-3 – Students Striving for Success Through Leadership Silent Auction, 10 A.M., Student Lounge, Building 9.

December 2 – Christmas Social for nursing students, noon, Multi-Purpose Room, Building 10.

December 2 – Gamma Beta Phi, meeting, noon, Room 1220, Building 12.

December 2 – Men of Success, meeting, noon, Room 112, Building 1.

December 4 – Student Government Association Christmas Social, noon, Multi-Purpose Room, Building 10.

December 5 – Division of Student Services meeting, 8:30 A.M., Room 928, Building 9.

December 5 – BCCC Staff Association Christmas Luncheon, noon, Multi-Purpose Room, Building 10.

Students, faculty and staff please e-mail your announcements to Betty Gray no later than the 15th of the month in order to list your event in the next edition of Campus Connections. For instant news updates, check out the BCCC News Blog at <http://bcccnewsblog.blogspot.com> and the BCCC Facebook Page

